Sole Source Letter

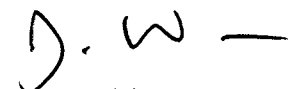

This letter is intended to provide notification that Connect Technology, LLC (Connect) (dba Connect Software Development) has unique capabilities for software development services related to HumMod integration with Epic Systems healthcare software.

In the over 1,500 total hours, over the last four years, working with HC Simulation & UMMC on HumMod, the most complete software model of integrative human physiology in the world, Connect has developed a portfolio of intellectual assets related to HumMod that include: methodologies, principles & processes, techniques, tools, protocols, & documentation.....all creating unique domain knowledge about the functionality & requirements of HumMod. In addition, Connect has special knowledge about the Epic / HumMod interface as Connect has been previously engaged by UMMC to facilitate the connection.

The software development services from Connect for UMMC & HC Simulation are not resold through any resellers and are not available from any other vendors.

We appreciate the opportunity to work with Dr. Hester & his team at UMMC on such a genuinely innovative & transformational concept as HumMod.

Sincerely,

John Welch
