Differentiators:

Signage that is customizable to your unique environment and easily maintained by you.

All message/graphic surfaces have backside color, won't peel, crack, wear or fade for the life of the product.

Modular signs; changes are a matter of replacing a component, not the entire sign. Additions to installed signs are seamless and look unified.

Appenx embedded Tactile Message tiles with backside color are warranted for the life of the facility.

Net price point is less than competitive product.

In the case of existing signage, Appenx can produce product that will look like any existing product currently installed.
