

Ridge

Ridge
Lounge

Ridge projects a combination of solidity and grace. The sides and back form a pleasingly bold unit, while the top of each structure is finished with a subtly undulating surface for visual interest and appeal. It is this unusual form, really a study in contrasts, that imparts to Ridge its unique character, one that is totally contemporary and striking, yet understated.

Ridge is available in 5 models: single seat, single seat on swivel base with automatic return-to-center, loveseat, 2-seat, and 3-seat.

Designer: Aodh O'Donnell
Irish-born Aodh O'Donnell first joined Stylex as an intern while studying at Philadelphia University. It was there that he gained recognition with his Armadillo chair, which won the Wilsonart Design Challenge. Upon receiving his degree, he began working with Stylex fulltime and now serves as its Director of Design.
