Activity-based, modular seating system

Share is a comfortable, informal, activity-based modular seating system that is practical to reconfigure. It is one of very few lines that allow seamless integration of task and lounge height seating surfaces to create additional dimensions of use within the same location. This makes it possible to accommodate individuals who find it inconvenient to sit on or get up from a lower surface. The two heights also encourage mixing dining with casual work and conferencing.

Share embodies a soft, curvilinear aesthetic for harmonious visual interest without excessive ornamentation, the ideal profile for many environments.
