

The Next Generation of Sustainable Cleaning

P&G has a long sustainability heritage going back decades. We have been recognized by many national and international groups for our efforts. At P&G, sustainability is a responsibility and an opportunity to make improvements that matter, and to make life better for the greatest number of lives. Our commitment begins with our Purpose, Values and Principles, for which sustainability is a driving force. As a company, we have committed to bold, long-term goals, publicly declaring to move toward:

- 100% renewable energy in our plants.
- 100% renewable materials in our products.
- Zero consumer waste and fossil fuel CO2.

Sustainability and P&G Professional

We believe that green begins with clean. Our scientists formulate products that deliver outstanding results the first time to help you conserve energy, water and packaging, reduce waste, and save time and money. We help businesses thrive by providing products of superior quality and value, now and for generations to come.

P&G Professional Green Guarantee

Our internal certification program ensures that P&G products provide outstanding performance while meeting high standards for environmental and human safety.

- All Green Guarantee products meet required external standards, including the US EPA national or international standards.
- Green Guarantee products meet P&G's high internal standards to ensure we deliver safe, effective products for billions of people.

Design for the Environment (DfE) Certification

As a partner in the EPA's Design for the Environment (DfE) program, many of our products have been awarded DfE certification (with more pending), including:

- P&G Pro Line® Finished Floor Cleaner.
- P&G Pro Line® Directions Floor Finish.

LEED for Existing Buildings Certification

P&G Professional products have contributed to many customers achieving LEED for Existing Buildings certification through the U.S. Green Building Council.

- From restaurants to schools to hotels to office buildings, P&G Professional products can help customers qualify for LEED:EB certification.
- Our line of disinfectants and floor cleaners meet California VOC requirements, a criterion for green cleaning products under LEED Existing Building standards.

every experience counts.™
