

Incontinence Management

Dignity® brand disposable protective underwear and briefs.

Dignity® Incontinence Products Provide Maximum Protection And Enhance Skin Health.

Adult incontinence presents challenges to residents and caregivers across the world. Healthcare professionals know that the need for effective management of incontinence will continue to grow as our aging population expands.

Whether it's caring for chronically ill, bed-ridden residents, or treating those with temporary bladder or prostate conditions, HARTMANN is dedicated to working hand-in-hand with medical professionals to provide the most clinically effective incontinence products. Dignity® Incontinence Management products are unlike any other on the market because of our unique and innovative fluid management technology, which offers superior benefits to clinicians and residents. Designed for superior absorbency, Dignity® products also provide maximum leakage protection and hygiene.

Our products, such as Dignity® P.M., used for extended, overnight protection; Dignity® Complete®, a breathable fitted brief for maximum protection; or Compose®, disposable protective underwear for moderate protection; represent quality, superiority and performance to enhance clinical care, while providing a level of comfort and security residents need and deserve. HARTMANN is committed to continual collaboration with the healthcare community to provide the most effective products for residents challenged by a range of incontinence issues, while preventing disease progression and enhancing skin health efficiently and cost effectively. Zoned Absorbency: Wetness disturbs the epidermal barrier and weakens the acid mantle of the skin. As a result, the skin's barrier function is damaged. Dignity® briefs provide advanced protection in the target zone, helping to keep the skin dry and healthy where it is needed most.

Absorbency Before Leakage (ABL): All incontinence products provide some level of absorbency. Dignity® briefs, however, are designed to perform while being worn by a resident. The ABL standard was developed to evaluate the retention of a product and its ability to prevent leaks. ABL performance is considered in every level of design and Dignity® products are designed to provide some of the highest levels of ABL results in the market.

Odor Neutralizer: Super absorbent polymers reduce the production of ammonia, which reliably neutralizes unpleasant odors.

Excelsorb® III Core: Protection is defined by drawing wetness away from the skin and maintaining a healthy, dry environment. The Excelsorb® III Core disperses fluid deep into the core, trapping it away from the skin.

Graduated Wetness Indicator: Dignity® products are able to contain multiple voids when necessary. As a result, the wetness indicator becomes an invaluable tool in caring for a resident. Our wetness indicator also provides size identification to help reinforce the importance of correct fit. This helps to optimize leakage protection and minimize operating costs.

HARTMANN develops and markets a complete range of high-performance product solutions in the areas of Incontinence, Compression and Wound Management. Our commitment to partner with healthcare professionals provides products that enhance patient quality of life and deliver clinical efficiency and efficacy across the continuum of care.
