Clear or tempered glass brings natural light and an open ambience that's acoustically sound.

System 3000®

In today's workplace, identifying useful, flexible space is important for any organization. Striking a balance of space allows workers to be more productive and efficient.

System 3000 is responsive, flexible and extendable. It's sleek, modular panel system is engineered to make the most of valuable square footage. Panels easily support shared spaces, private offices and semi-private workspaces. Choose from a variety of edge styles and customizable components to match any design vision.

Sleek steel bases, shelves and overhead cabinets provide maximum durability, while glass panels bring acoustic privacy and natural light into a workspace. Select one of KI's superior power distribution systems for a discreet energy solution.

System 3000 creates a dynamic environment with contemporary beauty that complements any office aesthetic.

Mobile conference tables can stand alone or may be used to extend end panels, allowing for impromptu meetings and conferences.
