Customized Products (Special Items)

Price requests for customized products or special items can be submitted via the “Online Services” section of our website, at www.logiflex.ca. Our quotations department will study your request and send you a quotation and a technical drawing for approval as soon as possible. Modifications to quotations or technical drawings can be requested the same way. The approved quotation(s) and technical drawing(s) can then be attached to your purchase order.

- Your reference number
- The delivery address (with contact name and phone number)
- The complete product codes

Please note that a quotation cannot serve as a purchase order.

Returns

All returns must first be approved by Logiflex. If the return is accepted, a Logiflex customer service representative will send you an official return authorization form in order to facilitate procedures between you, the carrier, and the Logiflex merchandise reception clerk. Additional costs for shipping or other expenses may be applied following any merchandise returns.

Modifications and/or Cancellations

You have 24 hours from the time we acknowledge receipt of your order to make any requests for corrections or modifications. You may cancel your order during this same 24-hour period. Requests to replace damaged products can be made via the “Online Services” section of our website, at www.logiflex.ca. Our after-sales service department will examine your request and help you correct the situation.

Appendix I: Electricity

An Introduction to Calculation and Use of Electrical Components

Most people are uncomfortable with anything related to electricity. This step-by-step guide is intended for people who are not familiar with electrical installations but who have to specify what system they need when ordering furniture. In this guide, you will learn how to choose and specify the electrical installations required for your projects. The list that follows illustrates and identifies each product and describes its applications.

The electrical components are all recognized by the Underwriters Laboratory (UL) as office furniture accessories and are manufactured according to Canadian Standards Association (CSA) and UL electrical standards. Metal channels are not UL approved and are used only to hold and distribute electrical wires. They should therefore not be used for telecommunication or digital data cables. You must use a separate channel in order to avoid a short circuit. Some cities and municipalities may have their own requirements.

Note: All electrical connections must be performed by a certified electrician.

By following these 3 simple steps, you can easily determine the number of circuits required to ensure safe use of your electrical equipment.

1. Determining the Number of Amperes Required
2. Calculating the Total Amperes Per Electrical Series
3. Determining How Many Circuits You Need

STEP 1: Determining the Number of Amperes Required

What is Amperage

An Ampere (Amp or A) is a unit for measuring the rate at which electric current flows. All electrical equipment has an amperage rate. By following these few simple steps, you can easily determine the number of circuits required to ensure safe use of your electrical equipment.

Determine the Number of Amperes Required

On your computer or other electric devices (ie: monitor, central processing unit, printer) find the plate that provides the technical specifications as follows:

Input: 120V - 1.8A.

If you cannot locate this information on the machine, you will probably find it in the user manual.

Here are a few examples of how many Amps some equipment may consume. Please note that these are examples and the number of amperes may vary from one machine to another.

Power Block and Simplex Capacity

An electrical series corresponds to the total number of amperes that use the same power source. This includes electrical components such as computers, printers, laptops, monitors, server or other devices.

Each power block has a total capacity of 8 Simplex units (plugs). A Simplex can handle up to 20 amps by itself, however as the number of Simplex are added to each circuit, the amount of amps is divided between them.

A single Simplex has a maximum capacity of 20A

Each power block can hold 8 Simplex

A single power block has a maximum capacity of 80A

$$20A + 20A + 20A + 20A = 80A$$

A power block with the same circuit Simplex on both sides also has a maximum capacity of 20A

$$10A + 10A = 20A$$

Joined together to a maximum of 5 power blocks, the capacity of each Simplex on the same circuit is divided as additional Simplex's are added on. So 5 Simplex on the same circuit still holds the same 20A capacity.

Appendix I: Electricity

STEP 2:

Calculating the Total Amperes Per Electrical Series

Add the Amperes

Add the number of amps for each machine in the series. In our example, there are 4 CPUs at 2.5A per computer, 4 monitors at 0.5A and one printer at 9A.

$$2.5A + .5A + 2.5A + .5A + 2.5A + .5A + 2.5A + .5A + 9A = 21A$$

The total number of amperes used in this example equals to 21A.

Divide by 16

UL assigns 15 amperes of intermittent use to each Logiflex unit. However, most machines and computers used in offices or schools are used continuously for many hours at a time. In this type of situation, national electrical codes usually limit circuits to 16 amperes of continuous use. You must therefore divide the total number of amperes calculated by 16.

STEP 3:

Determining How Many Circuits You Need

In most cases, this number will contain decimals. Round up to the next whole number, and this will be the number of circuits required for your equipment to run safely. If the number obtained is higher than 4 (the maximum number of circuits for a system), you must reduce the amount of current used by the system or create another system supplied by a separate power source. Continuing with our example, the 1.3A is rounded up to 2A.

Here is one possible configuration. Using 5 power blocks joined together with junction cables, only 2 circuits are being used. The 4 monitors and the printer are on Circuit #1 and the 4 CPUs are on Circuit #3 (which is the grounded circuit).

Here is a list of hardware that is required:

Starter Cable	Power Block	Bracket	Simplex	Junction Cable

1X	5X	5X	10X	4X
